JEANNETTE K. WATSON FELLOWSHIP

The Jeannette K. Watson Fellowship provides three consecutive summers of paid internships, mentoring, and enriched educational opportunities for fifteen promising New York City undergraduates. These internships, tailored to the interests of each Fellow, are designed to promote leadership and personal growth. Fellows also participate in a summer cultural program and a series of workshops and seminars led by top civic and business leaders.

For eligibility and details, see <http://www.jkwatson.org/> or contact the Office of Honors and Scholarships.

Please note that this Fellowship requires a commitment for three consecutive summers and some Saturday sessions are required. Also there are some eligibility restrictions based on majors. Students should be liberal arts or science majors – for example, business and accounting are not eligible majors.
